Other Business Activities

John is a registered representative of LPL Financial Inc. ("LPL"). Compensation earned by John in his capacity as registered representatives of LPL is separate from the compensation earned for providing advisory services as an investment advisory representative of LPL. This practice presents the potential for a conflict of interest because persons providing investment advice on behalf of LPL and brokerage services on behalf of LPL may have an incentive to recommend a fee structure that is beneficial to the representative rather than to the client.

Clients should be aware that John may be licensed as independent insurance agent through other third party insurance companies. He will earn commission-based compensation for selling insurance products, including insurance products that may be sold to clients. Insurance commissions earned are separate from investment advisory fees. This practice presents the potential for a conflict of interest because by serving as an insurance agent may be an incentive to recommend insurance products to clients for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on a client's needs. Clients are under no obligation, contractually or otherwise, to purchase insurance products. The implementation of any or all recommendations is solely at the discretion of the client.

Compensation

Your financial advisor may receive economic benefits from persons other than clients in connection with advisory services. Please ask your financial advisor about whether he or she receives any of the forms of additional compensation outlined below:

- (i) If your financial advisor provides services in a Strategic Wealth Management I (SWM I) or Strategic Wealth Management II (SWM II) account on the LPL Platform, your financial advisor may recommend mutual funds. Only no-load and load-waived mutual funds are available to be purchased in SWM I/SWM II accounts. However, some of these mutual funds may pay LPL Financial distribution or service fees (e.g., 12b-1 fees). For retirement and non-retirement accounts alike, such fees received by LPL Financial are credited back to the client's account.
- (ii) Your financial advisor may receive compensation from product sponsors. Compensation may include such items as gifts valued at less than $100 annually, an occasional dinner or ticket to a sporting event, or reimbursement in connection with educational or training events or marketing or advertising initiatives. Such compensation may not be tied to the sale of any products.

Supervision

On behalf of Wealthcare Advisory Partners, Mark Bredin, Chief Compliance Officer, is the person responsible for the supervision of John. Mr. Bredin can be reached at (484) 887-0201.

LPL maintains a Code of Ethics to which all employees must subscribe. The Code of Ethics provides for LPL and its employees to exercise fiduciary duty to its clients by acting in the best interest of the client and always placing the client's interest's first and foremost. LPL takes seriously its compliance and regulator obligations and requires all staff and employees to comply with all federal and state regulations as well as LPL's policies and procedures. Employees are required, no less than annually, to attest to their compliance with the firm's compliance policies and to their understanding of LPL's Code of Ethics. If you have any questions, the Chief Compliance Officer can be reached at (703) 779-9750.
